LILLE REPORTED IN HANDS OF GERMANS NOW IN FRANCE

RUSSIANS FIGURE ON ATTACK UPON BERLIN INSIDE THREE WEEKS

CZAR NOW HAS EIGHT MILLION MEN UNDER ARMS

Are Divided in Four Armies of Two Millions Each Which Operate One Behind Other

NO DELAY TO CAPTURE FORTS

Russ Plan Is to Leave Part of Vast Army About the Walls to Bottle Up the Garrison

ARE NOW ADVANCING UPON POSEN

Expect Determined Stand by Germans Who Are Steadily Falling Back Before Invaders

ST. PETERSBURG, via Rome, Aug. 27.—That the plans of the Russian army contemplate an attack on Berlin within three weeks was officially admitted today. At the same time it was stated that not only has the Russian mobilization been completed, but that there are now eight million men under arms.

The troops have been divided into four armies of two million men each. These armies are being placed in the field from the inland mobilization centers to operate one behind the other, the rearward one filling the gaps in the ranks of the one in front after each general engagement.

Commissariat Excellent

The war office also declared its commissariat is excellent. The arrangements for feeding the army are so complete, it is stated, that there will be no necessity of "living off the country."

Because of the enormous force that will be in the field, it is reported not to be the general plan of the Russian offensive to try to take the German chain of main forts by storm. Instead they will attempt to isolate each of them, leaving a large enough force to keep the garrisons bottled up and prevent attacks on lines of communication.

The main Russian advance, it is expected, will approach Posen from the south, crossing the south bend of the Warta river some miles from the Russian frontier and then move against Posen northwest between the Oder and Warta rivers.

Germans Retire

The German defense of its territory does not contemplate except on ground selected by the German staff itself is now considered certain. Reports from the front indicate the Germans are slowly retreating before the Russian advance, inflicting all of the damage possible as they move back.

The Russian left and center armies, operating in force along lines previously laid down, are said to have bottled up the German garrisons of the eastern Prussian forts.

Stories of supplies being poisoned by the Germans and left behind to be eaten by the Russian troops are current here.

Germans Re-inforced

That the Germans will make a definite stand before the defenses of the Oder are reached is believed certain here. The general staff has reports of heavy Austrian reinforcements being hurried north into Prussian territory. It is believed also that the Germans have been strongly reinforced by the reserve army just mobilized.

LA FOLLETTE OUT FOR TOM MORRIS LAUDS HIM HIGHLY

"Morris Is Fighting for Principle and Not for Personal Interest," He Says

"HAS SERVED TRUST WELL"

Unselfish Attitude of Lieut. Governor Praised by "Bob" Who Says "Splendid"

"ELECTION COMES CLOSELY HOME"

"His Platform Rings True, He Has Never Double Crossed Voters Nor Fooled Friends"

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Senator La Follette in his magazine comes out today with a broadside at Gov. McGovern and an appeal to the voters of Wisconsin to send Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris to the United States senate. The senator says that "Morris is fighting for principle and not for any man's personal ambition."

"Thomas Morris is a veteran in the progressive cause," says Senator La Follette. "He has proven his value and worth in the long struggle to make the will of the people the law of the land. He has contributed with rare self-sacrifice to this movement that has made Wisconsin a mecca for the awakening people of other states, seeking inspiration and guidance.

"Unassuming, even-tempered, courageous, able, without thought of personal interest, Morris has met the test, always, of whole-hearted service to the public. Morris is an experienced law maker. Our justly noted progressive statutes were supported by Morris during ten years of arduous and unwavering service to the people of Wisconsin."

McGovern is Selfish, He Says

"McGovern," the senator charges, "has pursued a policy of selfish personal interest without regard to the effect upon Wisconsin achievements." He says that in 1910 McGovern "would be a candidate himself or else pull down everything that had been achieved."

"The election of Tom Morris to the United States senate comes closely home to me," says the senator. "In my efforts to accomplish the greatest good for the state and country, it would mean everything to have a tried progressive and true friend for a colleague. Because of our mutual understanding and sympathy I feel that our team work on measures would be most effective for good. Let the good progressive republicans of Wisconsin send him to Washington to assist in carrying the banner still further ahead."

In the same number appears an editorial chronology of "F. E. McGovern" which year by year since 1908 sets forth the political moves of Gov. McGovern down to the time when he refused "to call a special session of the legislature to reduce taxes." A large portion of the editorial is devoted to the actions of McGovern at the Chicago convention.

Morris True to Trust

"As citizen, as legislator, as normal school regent, Morris has given zealous and undivided attention to popular education. He has rendered splendid service in maintaining and improving our public school system so that rich and poor alike may have free instruction from kindergarten to the state university."

Senator La Follette adds: "On national problems, Tom's way is the progressive republican way. His platform rings true. By electing Tom Morris, Wisconsin will place a genuine servant of the people at Washington, one who is schooled in the Wisconsin way of securing honesty in the public service, of achieving political, social and economic liberty and of bringing about equal opportunity for every citizen.

"All the way through Morris has been true. He has never betrayed a friend or a trust. He has never double-crossed the voters. He has never side-stepped an issue. He has never played false as between parties. He does, honestly and forcefully, what the people commission him to do."

WATER IS WARM R-R-R-r! C'MON IN SWIMMIN' IS FINE

Bathhouse frequenters have made an important discovery. They have a method for keeping warm and cozy these cool days.

Here is their method:

Take your bathing suit, or rent one from the city (be sure it agrees with the "strict censorship" of Alderman Paul W. Mahoney), and sink your form into the old Mississippi.

Shivers will not take hold of you there, and you will want to stay in all day.

Bathhouse keepers this morning found the temperature of the water at 70, while the local weather man announced temperature 51 this morning.

"Life is for service" is his creed:
"A man's what he achieves."
And so he labors in that hope
And, having faith, believes.

LILLE REPORTED TO HAVE SURRENDERED TO GERMAN FORCES

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A report sent by the Ostend correspondent of the Daily Express declares that the great French manufacturing city of Lille has been surrendered to the Germans. The war office professes to have no information whatever about the matter.

The Ostend story states that the fortifications in the neighborhood of the city were abandoned, and that the mayor issued a proclamation warning all of the inhabitants not to resist the German occupation, and disarming the local police. It says the Germans later occupied the city.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

ENGLAND.—Elaborate censorship results in circulation of rumors that allied armies have met with serious checks. All news regarding the movements are withheld. The war office claims to have no confirmation of report that Lillie, France, was surrendered to the Germans. Occupation of Longwy and Montmedy by Germans declared officially to be comparatively unimportant.

FRANCE.—New cabinet restores confidence in the face of official admissions that the allied army inthe north has been driven back into France territory. Officials admit that from now on, only a defensive campaign can be expected, until the Russian advance compels the Germans to withdraw part of their forces.

BELGIUM.—Belgian army reported attempting to cut the German lines of communication to force withdrawal of part of the pressure on the allied front.

RUSSIA.—Main Russian army marching against Posen is reported within striking distance of that important center. The Russian army invading Gallicia is reported to have occupied Tarnopol, eighty miles from Lemburg.

SERVIA.—Following victory in four day battle along Drina, Servian army is now hotly pursuing Austrians toward Loznitza. Have taken fifty cannons and 2,000 prisoners, but it is admitted the Servian losses were enormous.

JAPAN.—Government is cloaking offensive operations against Germany and Austrian with the utmost secrecy.

GERMANY.—The German war office claims a complete victory over the allies in Belgium with the taking of Longwy and Montmedy and a general offensive movement continued. The Namur forts are also declared to have been completely reduced.

AUSTRIA.—Details of the troop movements are withheld but it is admitted that German and Austrian troops are co-operating against the Russians.

PLANS MADE HERE FOR SPRING WATER SUPPLY TO GALE

Engineer Bradish fo this city is making preliminary plans and estimates of the cost of constructing a spring water system for the village of Galesville to be piped from the forcibly running springs on the heights above that city.

The board of trustees of the village have taken serious steps toward accepting plans for such a water system to be piped directly into existing mains as far as possible.

Analysis of the water by Madison chemists have shown it is equal if not superior in quality to water shipped all over the world from the springs at Waukesha.

ALL TRAINS STOP TEN MINUTES HERE FOR PRES. MILLER

Since the time of President McKinley's assassination, no person of prominence has by dying stopped all train service in the United States until today.

From 2 p. m. until 2:10 p. m. not a wheel was turned anywhere, nor did shopmen or other employes labor.

In respectful tribute to the memory of the late Darius Miller, president of the Burlington system, whose funeral was held in Chicago during the interim, general orders came yesterday to local department heads.

PAUL W. HUSTING DEMANDS DENIAL OF COIN STORY

In Open Letter Demands of Thos. Kearney that Story of Nominatory Gamble Be Withdrawn

Hon. Thomas M. Kearney of Racine, must either retract a reported statement that the democratic nomination races for the gubernatorial and senatorial offices were gambled for by the tossing of a coin, or be denounced publicly.

This is the gist of a public letter to him today by Mr. Husting. His letter follows:

The Letter

"August 26th., 1914.

"Hon. Thomas M. Kearney,
"Racine, Wisconsin.

"Dear Sir:—

"In the Milwaukee Journal of August 25th, 1914, you are quoted as having made the following statement in your Port Washington speech:

" 'Six hundred and fifty men met in Milwaukee, in the daytime, went to a public hall, adopted a platform, and suggested candidates. But some say that is not the way to do it. They say, take five men, register them all at one hotel, then go to another hotel, go into a room on the third floor, and pull down the blinds, and hold a convention. Then one of them said to John and Paul—You have not been able to get together, I'll tell you how to settle it. I have a coin here, heads you win, tails you lose. And the coin went up in the air. John lost and that is why Paul is running for the United States senate.'

"While you do not make the direct charge, it is plain that you intend to charge, and to have the public believe, that Mr. Aylward and I tossed coins for the purpose of determining who should be the candidate for the Senate, and who for the Governorship; that Aylward lost, and our respective candidacies were thus decided.

"I understand that you have made veiled statements to the same effect in other speeches, at other places. While it would seem that charges of such a serious character should not be wantonly or recklessly made, I take it that you do not intend to wilfully scatter false charges against your opponent.

"I hereby advise you that the charge is untrue in its entirety. I hereby request you to publicly withdraw the same, giving such withdrawal as much publicity as was given your original statements.

"PAUL O. HUSTING."

ALLIED ARMY GIVES WAY BEFORE GERMAN ADVANCE IN NORTH

WILL MAKE PARIS ENTRENCHED CAMP AS A PRECAUTION

War Minister Says Situation Is Unchanged Although French Were Forced to Fall Back

NO WORD OF REPORTED LOSSES

Evacuation of the French Strongholds on Frontier Is Not Confirmed by Officials

PLACE CONFIDENCE IN RUSSIANS

Believe German Advance Will Be Checked When Czar's Troops Force Them to Withdraw

Deny Fall of Lille

LONDON, Aug. 27.—That Lille has not been taken but that there has been serious fighting in the vicinity of the French border city was the statement made at the French embassy this afternoon. The fighting was in the nature of advance guard skirmishing.

PARIS,, Aug. 27.—The ministry of war today, following a conference between War Minister M. Millerand and the chiefs of divisions, decided to make Paris a perfectly entrenched camp. This is purely a precautionary measue, but it was stated that the object was to insure inlets and exits, no matter what was the result.

Following the councils the minister of war announced that the situation was practically unchanged. He declared that yesterday's events in the north, when the allied armies were compelled to take new positions had not modified any of the arrangements for future operations.

"When the right time comes," said the minister, "France will take the offensive. At present the plans of the general staff are being followed out to the letter."

Report Success

A most encouraging note was sounded by the minister when he declared that the operations of the French continues uninterrupted in the line for Nancy along the Vosges. There he said the French are slowly driving the Germans back.

The fighting along the entire Belgian-French frontier continued today. Today's fighting was admittedly much farther inside of the frontier than on yesterday. At some points the line was said to be twenty-five miles inside the frontier.

Admitted Retirement

The government, however, maintained its policy of silence. It permitted no word of the operations to reach the public. At midnight it admitted that part of the defense lines had been pushed back. There was no confirmation of reports that important centers on the frontier had been evacuated before the strong German forward movement.

The chief danger is still admittedly from the north. There the Germans are combining a crushing forward movement with an extensive flanking attempt in force. The war office experts say that provision to meet this movement has been made, and that the forces are now in action. On the result of this movement will depend the next move on both sides.

Even though the allied lines are forced back well within French territory, the concensus of opinion is that long before Paris can be seriously threatened the Germans must withdraw to meet the Russian peril.

German Losses Huge

Significant of the difference between offensive and defensive was a statement today by the war office that the German losses to date are estimated at three times those of the allies, and are admittedly "staggering."

Officials who admit the danger of the French lines being badly broken in the north, are insistent that the tide of battle in Lorraine is setting toward France. The fighting there has been continuous since last Friday.

Although the French were compelled to retire to their secondary defense line it is now asserted they are making great progress and have extended their lines at a number of points across the German frontier.

BORDER DEFENSES BELIEVED TO BE IN FOE'S HANDS

Longwy and Montmedy Forts Along Border Believed to Have Been Taken by Germans

CENSORSHIP IS MADE ABSOLUTE

War Office Allows No Word to Leak; British Cruiser Sinks Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse

DO NOT DENY REPORTS OF LOSS

British Mute on Reported Capture of Lille, Valenciennes and Roubaix by Germans

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The allied army is giving way in northern France. The war office, however, refuses to furnish any details, but insists that the movement has already been provided for. Reports that the forts of Longwy and Montmedy have been captured by the Germans are again current. Their capture, however, is declared by the military experts, to be comparatively unimportant inasmuch as they already had been isolated by the German enveloping movement.

The chief puzle, however, is the whereabouts of the British troops. The French war office accounts place them at several points within French territory and this is accepted as meaning that the Germans now control all of southern Belgium and are well across the French border.

To Lift Veil

The positive promise that the veil of secrecy is to be removed from the operations in France and Belgium was made in the house of commons today by Premier Asquith. Pleading that it had been necessary for strategic reasons to withhold information the premier stated that the government was alive to the necessity of relieving the public strain.

"The British troops on the continent are upholding the best traditions of the service," said Asquith. "They were in action again yesterday, fought a superior force of Germans, and acquitted themselves splendidly. The prospects for a satisfactory outcome of the conflict are excellent."

Sink German Cruiser

This cheering announcement was immediately followed by the statement by First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill that the great passenger liner Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse of the North German Lloyd line, taken over by Germany at the beginning of the war as an authority cruiser, has been sent to the bottom, off the African coast by the light cruiser Highflyer. This first real naval success, following an admissions of ground lost in the French-Belgium campaign, was received with great cheering by the membership.

The unofficial reports received via Ostend saying the Germans have occupied Lille, Roubaix and Valenciennes, in France, are without official confirmation. The government, however, does not deny them, taking the position that until the French government makes an announcement on the subject Britain must remain mute.

Do Not Deny

There is no denial of the reported occupancy of Longwy and Montmedy on the eastern frontier. Neither of the fortifications was strictly modern or absolutely essential to French plans of defense. The French commander in chief would not waste too many men to hold this line.

BURGLAR "LEGS" IT COPS SEE TRACKS— WELL,—THAT'S ALL

La Crosse police are today looking for a one-legged man.

The man is wanted badly at Houston, where he is suspected of robbery.

The postoffice, a jewelry store and one general store were broken into. The robber left tracks as he "legged" it out of the jewelry store, where he got away with eight cheap gold watches, a number of gold chains and other small articles.

THIS YEAR'S STATE FAIR TO BE BIGGEST IN STATE'S HISTORY

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS.

Lincoln Beachey, famous bird man, in three aviation exhibitions each day beginning Sept. 15.

Automobile races on Monday, Sept. 14.

Harness and running races Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Free vaudeville attractions every afternoon.

Music furnished by eight bands and one orchestra.

Beachey (in flying machine) and Oldfield (in automobile) probably will race on Friday, Sept. 18.

At night all fair week Milwaukee will make special efforts to entertain fair visitors. City will be especially lighted, with music everywhere.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 14.—Bigger and better than ever; that's what the State Fair this year will be.

When a tornado swept over the grounds early in June, leaving a trail of damage amounting to $100,000, it was announced that it would not be possible to hold this year's fair. This announcement, however, was not authorized by the Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture and was absolutely without foundation.

Discussing the damage at the fair grounds, and plans for rebuilding and repairing, President O. G. Rewey, of the Board, said today:

Rebuilding Is Going on.

"By the time the gates are thrown open for the 1914 fair, every mark of the June tornado will have been erased. We have let the contracts for rebuilding all of the buildings blown down, and for making all other repairs. The fence the Board will rebuild and repair itself. Most of the work will be completed by Sept. 1.

"The grounds will be in better shape for this year's fair than they were in for the 1913 fair."

Horse Department Excellent.

What of the fair itself—the exhibits?

In the horse department there will be more exhibits than ever before, and many new strings will be shown. This will be especially true of the draft classifications, in which the premiums are more numerous and larger than before. In one class a special classification for Wisconsin horses, Clydesdale, has been provided by the American Clydesdale association, and this organization gives a special premium of $100. To this amount the Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture adds another $100.

In order to more generally popularize the horse, the Board, together with the Boards of Iowa, Minnesota, and Illinois, is offering a saddle horse stake for a purse of $1,000, in addition to the regular saddle horse classes. This has been done to stimulate the harness and saddle horse business. Secretary MacKenzie announces that he has already received many entries for this special stake, and that it will prove one of the best attractions at the 1914 fair.

In the Cattle Department.

In the cattle department the display of dairy cattle will be by far the best ever given, and the same can be said of the beef cattle classifications. Wisconsin is known the world over for its cattle, and the 1914 fair will add to its renown in this respect.

In many instances the premiums have been added to, in the Holstein-Friesian class, for instance. Here premiums will be given this year for senior yearlings and junior yearlings and for senior and junior calves, something that never has been done.

There are a great number of special premiums, as usual, and the entry lists to date indicate that the exhibits will be greater in number and quality than ever before.

Swine, Sheep and Poultry.

In the sheep department Wisconsin will lead as usual. There have been additions to the premium lists and to the special prizes, and the entry list to date shows many notable additions.

All who are interested in sheep cannot afford to miss this year's fair, for a new mark will be set for number and high class of exhibits.

The swine department will be by far the best ever shown in Wisconsin. A large amount of money has been added to the premium list. Take for instance the Poland-China Futurity Prospects classification, managed and guaranteed by the Poland-China Record association. The display will be of unusually high class and exceptionally large.

In the poultry division over 4,000 birds will be shown, and no other state will be able to boast of as an extensive pigeon display.

A New County Building.

Entries to date in the Agricultural department warrant the statement that never before has this industry been so largely or adequately represented as it will be at the 1914 fair.

It has been necessary to provide more space for this department, and in addition to space alloted last year the present county building will be given over to agricultural exhibits.

This departure has been made possible through Dr. G. A. Kletzsch, of Milwaukee, member of the Board, who has arranged for the construction of a new County building, which will give space for exhibits from more than fifty counties.

This new structure was made absolutely necessary for the reason that Secretary MacKenzie found when counties began to write to him for space that at least fifty would exhibit. The old County building has space for about twenty-five county exhibits.

Northern Wisconsin Is Active.

Northern Wisconsin will be especially well represented this year in the county exhibits department.

In addition to the many premiums in this division, and the other special prizes, the Milwaukee Journal is offering a costly cup for the best county exhibit at this year's fair.

The horticultural department will be unusually strong, and every foot of space in the building set apart for this department will be made use of. Northern Wisconsin will be very strong in this department this year, and counties which have scored strongly in past years in this division may find their laurels gone to northern counties when premiums are awarded.

In this department also, the division of plants and flowers will be found far above the standard established in past years.

Dairy Department Bigger.

No department of the 1914 fair will be of greater interest than the dairy department, and it will be found that this department has kept pace with others that will show decided gains.

This year every resident of the state exhibiting creamery or dairy butter or cheese will be paid a premium of $2.00 for each exhibit, regardless of the score. This decision on the part of the Board in arranging premiums is having a remarkably good effect. A special premium also is given for every exhibit exceeding $150 in value.

Wisconsin as the great dairy state will find its world-wide reputation greatly augmented after the 1914 fair.

The Machinery Exhibit.

The Machinery department this year will be remarkable for the fact, that, while many of the big machinery concerns will not be represented, the number of exhibits will be larger, and the display of machinery greater than ever. The smaller independent manufacturers will be more numerous and more largely represented. The fair will be notable for its lack of so-called "trust-made" machinery.

Some of the so-called mammoth manufacturers of machinery are not patronizing state fairs this year not only in Wisconsin, but in Mennesota and elsewhere. Their reason is that they do not believe that they get results sufficient to warrant the large expenditures attending exhibiting at fairs. These manufacturers aim only at reaching the dealers in machinery. They forget that the farmer is the man who buys machinery, and that by neglecting to exhibit they do not display their manufactures to the man who supports the dealers.

The smaller manufacturers appreciate the fact that with some of the bigger manufacturers out more attention will be given to the smaller makers of machinery, and the number of this class of exhibitors this year will be much larger than ever before.

In the Art Department.

Thousands yearly have appreciated the Art department of the state fair, and patrons of the fair interested in art will find much more to entertain them this year than ever before.

Supt. James J. Nelson, of Amherst, of this department, says: "The Art department this year will exceed my expectations, both in number of exhibits and high class of exhibits. I want to assure all residents of Wisconsin who are interested in art that they must come to this year's fair prepared to spend as much time as possible in the Art building. They will be agreeably surprised."

New Woman's Work Building.

The Woman's Work department has grown so rapidly from year to year that a new building for this department is absolutely necessary, and it is expected that the state will provide a new and adequate structure in 1915. The last legislature appropriated $50,000 for such a building, but a "string" was tied to the appropriation, and the money is not available.

This department always has attracted all of the women patrons of the fair, and there will be more occasion than ever for their inspection of this department.

Champion Spellers.

The educational department will be larger and of higher class than ever. One feature of the educational work of the Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture has been a spelling contest by counties throughout the state. Winners of these contests will be especially invited guests of the Board at this year's fair.

The best advice that can be given to any citizen of Wisconsin who is interested thoroughly in the great Badger state is not to miss the 1914 fair, the greatest exposition the state ever has given.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

ELSA TAKES CHARGE

By CATHERINE COOP

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

"All you have to do," said Elsa's sister as she swung into her opera cloak, "is to heat up his food if he cries. I have left it in the ice box all ready." Kitty kissed her baby as he lay sleeping in his bassinette, and embraced Elsa before she left for the theatre with her husband.

"Good practice for you, Elsa." Bobby had called as a parting sally.

But Elsa did not smile as she turned back into the house, deserted save for a tiny atom of humanity and herself. She was not accustomed to the care of wee babies, and she was fearful of the moment when Kitty's infant would awake and demand attention. However, he might sleep quietly until his parents returned from the theatre.

Elsa tried to become absorbed in a magazine. She could not, however, think of anything but her small charge, and each time his little hands tossed about in sleep her breath was suspended. When once he caught his own breath, Elsa's heart almost stopped breathing, so fearful was she of consequences. All sounds were augmented in the stillness of the night. Every appalling catastrophe that could possibly happen flashed vividly befor her distorted vision.

Her restlessness eventually suggested itself to the baby. He stirred opened his eyes and from a soft whimper developed a most lusty roar.

Elsa stooped anxiously over him and took him into her arms. Her attempts at quieting him had no effect. Baby continued to cry and his small face became deep purple in his rage. Elsa put him down and went into the kitchen to heat his milk. It must surely be food he wanted. But no sooner was he left to himself than his howling became more intense and Elsa dashed back, frantic with fear. She forgot about the milk, and a moment later a spluttering sound told her that it had boiled up and over the stove.

Elsa was ready to weep with nervousness and vowed never again to be left in charge of a tiny infant with her limited experience. She put baby down, rushed into the kitchen and turned out the gas, but the milk had boiled over and there was no more in the house. Elsa's conception of baby food consisted entirely of cow's milk. Without that baby could not eat. She therefore, determined to go out before the dairy closed and get some. Fortunately, for the moment Bobby Junior was less noisy. Elsa went quickly out and a gust of wind slammed the door shut.

"Oh!" gasped Elsa, "I'm locked out!" Thoroughly frightened, she ran swiftly around the house to find every door and window locked. Bobby had taken every precaution against intruders before going to the theatre.

It was a very wild-eyed and dishevled girl who stood outside the door when Norman Roscoe opened it in response to her imperious knock.

"Have you any milk, and will you please come over and try to get me into my sister's house?" Elsa asked quickly.

The young man eyed Elsa with a peculiarly suspicious glance. His eyebrows went up and as they came down his gaze traveled the entire length of her figure.

"I'm not a theif and I'm not mad," cried Elsa impatiently, "and if you don't intend to help me out of my predicament I will have to find some one who can." She would have turned away but Roscoe's hand detained her.

"What is the trouble again?" he questioned her.

"The wind slammed the door shut when I came out to get some milk, and I can't get in and the baby is crying at the top of his voice."

"Wait a second," said Roscoe, and went into the house. He had heard Bobby Junior's strenuous voice, and it had scattered the doubt he had harbored against the girl. He returned in a moment with a bottle of baby food. "We keep these on tap," he told Elsa as he put it into her hands.

"It's ice cold," said Elsa, because she did not exactly know what she was talking about so anxious was she to pacify Bobby Junior.

"It's been in the ice box," Roscoe informed he dryly. "You put it in hot water before giving it to the baby," he added, wondering if so lovely a girl were entirely lacking in maternal instinct. "I suppose you would have given it to him like that."

"Very probable," agreed Elsa, and found that her anxiety permitted a slow smile to dawn in her eyes. "You see I know nothing whatever about very young boys." She glanced sideways at him and wondered whether he were the father of five or two.

"Oh, ho," laughed Roscoe. "May I be allowed to infer that your interest in older ones has warranted you in neglecting—"

"You may infer anything you like so long as you get me inside this house," Elsa told him as she stood beside the locked door of her sister's home. "I think we will have to smash a window."

"The youngster certainly has an excellent pair of lungs," muttered Roscoe. When he had tried unsuccessfully to admit himself to the house by every fair means he resorted to foul, and put his fist through the pane of a window. After that the way was easy, and in a moment Elsa had stooped over Bobby Junior. He seemed more willing to succumb to the tenderness of Elsa's arms than he had been before, and when Roscoe had heated the bottle of food, Bobby's tiny hands closed gratefully but sleepily over it.

"He seems a perfectly well behaved little chap," commented Roscoe softly.

"It must be your superior influence," laughed Elsa, and there was a great relief in her eyes. "Really," she added, in pretty apology, "I was frightfully worried and spoke crossly to you at first—please forgive me. I thank you so much for helping me."

"If Bobby Junior kicks up any more shindles tonight just ring up 714 and I will come over and take my slipper to him." He looked admiringly down into Elsa's eyes then an inspiration came to him. "I shall be worried in any case," he added. "So if you will telephone me in the course of half an hour——"

"Oh! I couldn't think of it," exclaimed Elsa. "It would awaken your wife and children——"

"But I have neither one blessing nor the other," Roscoe told her promptly. "I am a lonely bachelor in my sister's home.'

"I will call you up in half an hour," Elsa said with a soft blush and laughter in her eyes.

"Make it twenty minutes," suggested Roscoe as he went out by the door that had locked Elsa into his world.

When Kitty and Bobby returned from the theatre they pondered over the pink in Elsa's cheeks and the sparkle in her eyes.

"Taking charge of babies agrees with you, Elsa," commented Bobby.

"Yes," murmered Elsa shyly covering her eyes. "It does."

ENGLISH FEAR THE FALL OF OSTEND

Think Germans Will Use Belgian Port as Base for Zeppelin Raid Across Channel

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Reports from Ostend today say that the German attack on that city has been renewed. Scouts report heavy bodies of German reinforcements coming up and it is believed the city will be forced to surrender.

Steamers report the presence of English warships near the Ostend harbor.

The London newspapers say the capture of Ostend by the Germans will be a direct menace to England. It is only sixty-six miles off the British coast. The danger of Zeppelin raids is discussed at length. There is no disguising the fear England has toward these "vultures of the air." The narrow escape of the royal palace at Antwerp in Tuesday's raid shows that the Zeppelins, operated by an expert can become a real menace.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Baby Among the Ice Cakes.

"TEACHER said, just before school closed, that the people who lived in the temperate zone were the luckiest," said Jack. "What did she mean, daddy?"

"She meant the variety of weather you get without its extremes," replied daddy. "And all the other advantages that come from a climate where men have the best chance to do things, like learning and building fine houses and studying how to answer little boys' questions. For instance, she meant how much luckier it was for a little white baby in this town than for a a little Eskimo baby among the ice cakes.

"The Eskimo children live in snow houses up toward the north pole, which brave Admiral Peary discovered, you will remember. There are ice and snow there all the year around. The whole family have to wear furs to keep warm, the baby as well as the rest. He looks very funny, with his hair all black and shiny, like an Indian's, and his funny beady black eyes and his little flat nose and yellowish-brown cheeks. He's such a homely baby that he's pretty—you know that kind.

"There aren't any nurses or servants to wait on that baby, you may be sure. He isn't so very old before he is rolling and tumbling around the floor of the snow hut, all done up in his furs, like a little round potato, and his papa and mamma and the other children have to be careful not to step on him. But I guess they never do, for they're used to stepping over babies in the snow huts.

"After he is weaned his mamma gives him a string of blubber to suck to keep him still. Blubber is the fat, oily meat from a whale. And the little Eskimo baby enjoys that blubber just as much as you children would enjoy a stick of candy. You see he never had any candy, and he never had any circus layout or toy gun or drum or anything like that. But he is a happy and contented baby, for he is satisfied with what he has because he doesn't know of anything better. And that is not always the case with little children in America.

"When the baby's family is moving from one place to another where the hunting and fishing are good, he is slung in a little pack, like an Indian boy, and carried on the back of his mother. For the Eskimo papa is much like an Indian papa in that he lets the mamma do a great deal of the work.

"Sometimes white traders visit an Eskimo village with beads and other pretty trifles, and then the baby has a great time, for they give him one or two to play with, and I suppose he would swallow them if he were not watched, just as a white baby would do."

HOLD UP SAILINGS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Delaware & Hudson Steamship company has cancelled the sailing of its steamship Oceana which was to have sailed for Genoa, Italy, August 29. The action was taken upon orders from the Italian offices of the line, which cabled that the vessel should not be sent out.

RUMORED TURKS PLAN HOLY WAR

State Department Officials Scout Tales that Massacre Is in Contemplation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Fears by Americans of a "holy war" both in European and Asiatic Turkey, with rumors of threatened attacks on all Christians by Musselmen have been transmitted to the state department by Ambassador Morganthau from Constantinople, Secretary of State Bryan stated today.

Officials here refused to regard the situation as serious, but admitted that Morganthau had said there appeared to be some basis for the fears of American millionaires. The latter are afraid that Musselmen will take advantage of the general European war.

The cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina, now engaged in the relief of Americans in Europe will be available for service should a general massacre be attempted.

White horses are now barred from cavalry service in the United States. By the way, what has become of the red-headed girls?

NINE DIE WHEN STEAMER IS SUNK

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, the heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is which contains no dangerous narcotics or alcohol.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anæmic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing.

In liquid or tablet form at most drug stores or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

THANK YOUR STARS IT IS NOT "T. R."

"Thank Heaven that Roosevelt is not president!"

One hears it everywhere. The people of this country breathe relief at the thought that a cool man, peace loving, opposed to war, is at the helm in these times of strife when hasty word or deed might plunge us into the whirlpool of European slaughter. What hazard would be ours if the impetuous and militant "rough rider" were spokesman of this nation.

And a man whom we could not trust in times of stress is not the man for president at any time.

"GO IT BETSY! GO IT B'AR!"

All disguises have been thrown away in connection with the Karel and Rose alliance in Milwaukee. At a Karel meeting held at headquarters in the Plankinton house last evening, the Associated Rose Clubs were invited to join with the Karel advisory committee to further the interests of the Kearney-Karel ticket. A resolution providing for a speaker's bureau for Milwaukee county, with David S. Rose as chairman, was unanimously carried. Mr. Rose, in urging concerted action, said that the "Milwaukee county Democracy" should be welded into a unit. —Milwaukee Journal.

As a matter of reciprocity Dave Rose should support Mr. Philipp. It would be a fair return for the stalwart support accorded him in his campaign for governor. We confess to indifference as to his present allegiance, however. It is no great matter whether he added the handicap of his name to the Karel or to the Philipp machine. In either case he is performing his first valuable service to the public.

IS PHILIPP GERMAN OR SWISS ITALIAN?

Editor Candrian, supporting Philipp for governor, tells the people we want a "German-American" governor.

Has not Mr. Candrian heard that Mr. Philipp is a Swiss Italian?

The statement has been widely published, and never publicly denied by Mr. Philipp.

Obviously, it would be as un-American to vote against Mr. Philipp because he is supposed to be a Swiss Italian as it would be to vote for him simply because he is of German, or Irish, or of any other descent.

Aren't we intelligent enough to keep this foolish stuff out of our politics?

Mr. Philipp has a platform, just as have Hatton, Hull and Stout. Read the platforms, pick out the sound stuff, reject the "jokers" and vote accordingly, like true Americans.

"WHAT WILL THE HARVEST BE?"

Everywhere, in this country, men and women are sympathizing with Europe. Citizens of German, Belgian, English, Austrian, Servian and French descent are in sympathy with their respective fatherlands. This is natural, for blood ties are strong. Even though a man does not approve the action of his former government, he sympathizes with its people that were his people.

It is hard and brutal—this war. Its burden of sorrow has come across the sea like a tidal wave. Over there heroes are giving up their lives:

"Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs but to do and die."

Over here we can but deplore, and hope the nations may accept the wise advice, "In time of war prepare for peace."

To us there seems but one possible element of compensation for this war. It will be realized if out of the struggle come better governments. War, though terrible, is comparatively brief; government is as lasting as the globe. Wars have brought worse government, and better government. May this one bring to the nations of Europe the true democracy.

EXTRA! THE SENTINEL TELLS THE TRUTH

To try to blame McGovern for the Chicago convention fiasco is so ridiculous as to be amusing if it were not so foolish. There was no possible chance for La Follette to be nominated at that convention.—Fox River Journal.

Delegate McGovern saw that, and calculated that Roosevelt did have a chance to be nominated. So he made his alleged tentative flop to Roosevelt.

But Roosevelt was not nominated, so Delegate McGovern incurred the eternal vindictive animosity of La Follette, thus falling between two stools.

He thereupon proceeded to run for governor on the republican ticket, although the local bull moose contingent, by raising a great smudge at his door succeeded in smoking him out as a bull moose by inclination, though a republican for votes.

Slippery as an eel, elusive as a globule of quicksilver, McGovern's political whereabouts are always wrapped in the mists of conjecture. Even his present apparent supporter, the Free Press, once impatiently dubbed him the "Political What Is It."—The Sentinel.

Good—and true, too. Strange experience for the Sentinel.

Now consummate the reformation by telling the truth about Bancroft and Philipp.

A brilliant woman is one who has brains enough to get out and earn her own living—but sense enough to stay at home and let some man do it for her.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Luck

If jewels were to drop from all the trees and fall like hail
Upon a certain day, and folks should get them by the pail—
That certainly would be the day that I would be in jail.

If steamboats sold for ten cents each, I'm very certain when
I would go down to buy one I would find, but not till then,
That some galoot had come along and touched me for my ten.

If I were to be run down in the street, I know 'twould be
Not by some fancy auto; this would not be luck's decree.
Twould be by some garbage wagon that would make a mess of me.

To "Foil" Them

At the Lambs club one night a player whose conceit is in inverse ratio to his ability was complaining to William Collier that by reason of the curious hostility of the critics he was unable to obtain a lucrative engagement.

"What do they say?" asked Collier.

"That's just it—they don't say anything about me. I tell you, there is a conspiracy of silence against me. What would you do?"

"Join it," advised Collier.—Grand Rapids Press.

She Got Up

At a children's excursion an elderly lady took a great deal of interest in the little ones' games. She seated herself on the grass beside a little boy with golden curls. As soon as she sat down, the lad gave vent to an ear-piercing howl.

"Have you any pain?" asked the lady anxiously.

"No I haven't!"

"Perhaps you would like some more cake?"

"No!" roared the child. "Wot I want is my frog wot I catched!"

"Frog?"

"Yes, my frog! You're sitting on it!"—Tit-Bits.

Gas, Please

One gloomy day a young countryman went to a dentist to have a tooth extracted. Seeing the patient's obvious nervousness, the dentist inquired kindly:

"Would you like gas?"

"Would I like gas? Of course I'd like gas," exclained the irate patient. "Do you think I'm goin' to have you yanking out my teeth in the dark?"—New York Journal.

As He Understood It.

"Why is it?" asked the ambitious young orator, complaining to the editor of the morning paper, "that you always report me as having said 'among other things' ?"

"Well, as I understand it, you are usually among other things when you say them."

The little, mild, bald man had settled down in the train to read, and feeling drowsy after a trying day at business, fell asleep. On the hat rack above was a ferocious crab in a bucket, and, reaching the edge of the rack, it fell, alighting on the little man's shoulder, and grabbed his ear to steady itself.

All of the passengers waited expectantly for developments, but what they heard was:

"Let go, Sarah! I tell you I've been at the office all the evening."—Chicago News.

The Movies

I love the dear old movie show,
Because it is a cinch I know,
Exactly what I'm going to see,
That's why the thing appeals to me.

I know I'll see some western skit,
Wherein some bandit bites the grit,
And ponies scurrying to and fro,
A punk frontier saloon or so.

There'll always be a funny play,
Night-prowling husband who gets gay;
A telephone, a jealous wife,
And oodles of domestic life.

The third reel is a comic one;
We always know what sort of fun
They're going to pull, by heck;
Some fat man gets it in the neck.

But still we would not change the bill;
We liked it once and always will.
It has been proven by long test,
The old stuff always goes the best.

A Hard Smoke

Old John was sitting in his shirt-sleeves one day, puffing like mad at his pipe and never getting a puff of smoke from it.

As Smith drew near John struck three matches and held them to the bowl of the pipe and sucked and sucked till his cheeks seemed to meet inside; still never a puff of smoke.

And burnt matches lay around his chair. There must have been a boxful of them.

"Why, John, what on earth are you doing?" said Smith.

"That chump White's been trying to fool me, I expect," said John, and he took another futile puff and put his pipe down in disgust.

"That chump White told me that if I smoked a bit of glass I should see the spots in the sun."

Woman at Law

A Brockton woman was arrested and thought she would save a legal fee by conducting her own case in court, but she was fined $75. Then, with a friend, she called on a regular lawyer.

"Ah," said the regular lawyer, giving a guess at what his visitors wanted. "She appealed and wants me to defend her in the superior court."

"But she didn't appeal. She paid the fine."

"Then where do I fit in the case?" asked the attorney.

"We want you to bring suit against Judge Reed and make him give us back the $75," earnestly stated the visitor.

The lawyer did not take the case. —Boston Post.

A Resident Known to all Our Readers Relates an Experience

Readers of The Tribune have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are La Crosse cases, told by La Crosse people.

E. E. Burrows, 421 Vine St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for backache and kidney complaint for several years and have always had fine relief. I am pleased to recommend this remedy."

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Burrows had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Somewhat disconcerted by these words, Willock sat down opposite her and resumed his pipe as if to assert his sex. "I seem weak to you," he explained, "because I love you, child, and want to make friends with you. But let me meet a big man—well, you'd see then!" He looked so ferocious as he uttered these words, that she started up like a frightened quail, grasping her blanket about her.

"No, no, honey," he cooed. "I wouldn't hurt a fly. Me, I was always a byword amongst my pards. They'd say, 'There goes Brick Willock, what never harmed nobody.' When they kept me in at school I never clumb out the window, and it was me got all the prize cards at Sunday school. How comes it, honey, that you ain't forgot to talk like civilized beings?"

"Red Feather, him always put me with squaw that know English—that been to school on the reservation. Never let me learn talk like the Indians. Him always say some day take me to my own people. But never said 'Big Hair.'"

"Did he tell you your mother died two years ago?"

"Yes—father, him dead too. Both died in the plains. Father was shot by robbers. Mother was left in big wagon—you bury her near this mountain."

"Oh, ho! So your father was killed at the same time your mother was, eh?"

"Yes."

"Well—all right. And you got nobody but me to look after you—but you don't need no more; as long as long as I'm able to be up and about, nothing is going to hurt you. Just you tell me what you want, and it'll be did."

"Want to be all like white people; want to be just like mother."

Well, I'll teach you as fur up as I've been myself. Your style of talk ain't correct, but it was the best Red Feather could do by you. Him and you lay down your words like stepping-stones for your thoughts to step over; but just listen to me, how smooth and fine-textured my language is, with no breaks or crevices from the beginning of my periods to where my voice steps down to start on a lower ledge. That's the way white people talks, not that they got more to say than Injuns, but they fills in, and embodies everything, like filling up cabin-walls with mud. I'll take you by the hand right here from where Red Feather left you, and carry you up the heights."

She examined him dubiously: "You know how?"

"I ain't no bell-weather in the paths of learning, honey, but Red Feather is some miles behind me. What's your name?"

"Lahoma."

"Born that way, or Injunized?"

"Father before he died, him all time want to go settle in the Oklahoma country—settle on a claim with mother. They go there two times—three—but soldiers all time make them go back to Kansas. So me, I was born and they named me Oklahoma—but all time they call me Lahoma. That I must be called. Lahoma because that father and mother all time call me. Lahoma, that my name." She inquired anxiously, "You call me Lahoma?" She leaned forward, hands upon knees, in breathless anxiety.

"You bet your life I will, Lahoma."

"Then me stay all time with you—all time. And you teach me talk right, and dress right, and be like mother and my white people? You teach me all that?"

"That's the program. I'm going I'm going to civilize you—that means to make you like white folks. It's going to take time."

"You 'civilize' me right now?—You begin today?" She started up and stood erect with arms folded, evidently waiting for treatment.

"The process will be going on all the while you're associating with me, hone. That chief Red Feather—he has a daughter, hasn't he?"

"No; him say no girl, no boy." She spoke with confidence.

"I see. And your father's dead too, eh?" Evidently Red Feather had thoroughly convinced her of the truth of these pretenses.

"Both—mother, father. Nobody but me." She knelt down at his side, her face troubled. "If I had just one!"

"Can you remember either of them?"

"Oh, yes, yes—and Red Feather, him talk about them, talk, talk, always say me be white with the white people some day. This is the day. You make me like mother was. You civilize me—begin!" She regarded him with dignified attention, her little hands locked about her blanket where it lay folded below her knees. The cloud had vanished from her face and her eyes sparkled with expectancy.

"I ain't got no tools yet, honey. They's no breaking up and enriching land that ain't never bore nothing but buffalo-grass, without I have picks and spades and plows and harrers. I got to get my tools, to begin."

She stiffened herself. "You needn't be afraid I'll cry. I want you to hurt me, if that the way."

"It ain't like a pain in the stomach Lahoma. All I gets for you will be some books. Them is the tools I'm going to operate with."

"Books? What are books?"

"Books?" Willock rubbed his bushy head in desperation. "Books? Why, they is just thoughts that somebody has ketched and put in a cage where they can't get away. You go and look at them thoughts somebody capable has given rise to, and when you finds them as has never ranged in your own brain, you captures 'em, puts your brand on 'em, and serves 'em out in your own herd. You see, Lahoma, what you think in your own brain ain't of no service, for you don't know nothing. If you want to be civilized, you got to lasso other people's thoughts—people as has went to and fro and has learned life—and you got to dehorn them ideas, and tame 'em."

Lahoma examined him with new interest. "Are you civilized?" Her countenance fell.

MEN WITH GUNS READY TO SHOOT STOPPED BY LAW

Europe is not the only spot on the globe in which a gun is in demand.

They are in demand in LaCrosse, or soon will be.

Every man who ever shot a duck or ever shot at one is sniffing the air and wishing Wisconsin law allowed him to hunt before September 7, the official day.

La Crosse men camping on the Mississippi above La Crosse, on Black River and in the sloughs adjacent to the city say they have already sighted good sized flocks of ducks and geese.

Game Warden Gautsch says he has seen large flocks overhead, and many are alighting in favorite feeding grounds near here.

"BOLD BURGLARS" TAKE MUCH DRINK THEN STEAL EATS

A broken door, five stolen pieces of fried chicken and a badly disordered interior of the chicken sandwich stand at 520 Mill street tell the story of a midnight escapade indulged in last night by two north side men. Arrests have been made.

Leo Byrnes, 1108 Rose street, proprietor of the place, according to his own story, left the stand at midnight, walking south toward the Milwaukee tracks. A few minutes later he met Patrolman Koschnitzki, who had one of the men in custody. The other night prowler was caught a few minutes later. Both of the men were intoxicated.

At central police station this morning, the men expressed regret.

Byrnes says that he will not prosecute if the men will settle for the broken door and the stolen sandwiches.

SPOTLIGHTS

THE VIRGINIAN

Under the management fo Jones and Crane "THE VIRGINIAN", which comes to the La Crosse Theatre on Saturday, Aug. 29, matinee and night, will doubtless be remembered by the play going public of this city as Kirke LaShelle's New York Garrick Theatre success. This is the attraction's first trip here and it will surely receive the welcome it has enjoyed since the commencement of its first tour on the road several years ago. Dustin Farnum attained the crowning point of his career in this romantic drama, which is the combined efforts of Mr. La Shelle and Owen Wister. The play is elaborately mounted and the cast contains an exceptionally clever company of players.

AT GAY CONEY ISLAND

It is seldom that the theatre going public of the country have an opportunity to see a big European Star before New York gets a chance to pass judgement. Yet with "At Gay Coney Island" is Bertha Evelyn, the pet of London and one of the highest salaried English music hall artists who have ever crossed the big pond to our shores. While in London last spring, Charles A. Sellon, producing director with the Ned Alvord, Inc., witnessed the performance of the young woman at the Palace music hall. So impressed was the American showman with the talent displayed that he signed a contract with her for her appearance in the state. That is why the pampered "pet of the 'alls" will be with the big fun show at the La Crosse Theatre on Sunday, Aug. 30, matinee and night.

HE HAS A NUMBER WRITES A. GELATT FROM GOTTENBURG

"Number 356," is what Arthur A. Gelatt, 401 South Fourteenth street, is known by in Gottenburg, Sweden.

Sounds like a number given a convict, but in this case, Mr. Gelatt is glad to get it, as it means he is registered with the United States' consul there ready to take a steamer for the United States.

A letter to his parents said he expects to leave for this country soon.

NEUTRAL SHIPS SUNK BY MINES

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Exchange Telegraph company says a Danish trawler has been blown up by a mine in the North sea and that four of the crew perished. The war office has no confirmation of the report.

Later the Exchange Telegraph company announced that a second trawler, a Norwegian named The Gottfrid, also struck a floating mine and was sunk. Eight of her crew were drowned and four saved.

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift.

The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected such women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

FORTY-FOUR OF CARDINALS ARRIVE

Certain that Sixty Princes of the Church Will Vote in Papal Election

ROME, Aug. 27.—Forty-four cardinals have arrived in Rome for the conclave at yhich the successor of Pope Pius X will be elected, and it was certain today that sixty members of the sacred college will participate in the balloting. This means forty votes will be necessary to elect the new pope.

All newly arriving cardinals are escorted immediately to the crypt in St. Peter's, where they pray over the tomb of his holiness Pope Pius. Cardinal Falconi, former delegate to Washington, has been chosen to celebrate the mass in the Sistine chapel next Sunday which will mark the end of the nine days funeral services.

DESCRIBES BURNING OF BELGIAN TOWN

Soldier Tells How Villagers Helped to Destroy Homes About Liege

LONDON, By Mail to New York, Aug. 27.—A graphic story of the burning of the village of Boncelles by Belgian soldiers because it would interfere with the fire from the Liege forts, is told in a letter received in Wales by the brother of a Belgian soldier.

"I shall never forget the sight of it," the Belgian soldier wrote. "One hundred and thirty houses and the church of Boncelles, forming one big blaze in the middle of the night, and the poor inhabitants helping the soldiers to destroy their little homes.

"It was about ten o'clock when the peaceful inhabitants of Boncelles were abruptly reminded of the horrible significance of the word 'war.' An engineer officer, surrounded by an army of sappers, called at every door and delivered the message that the houses had to be burned to allow the fort to operate its guns without obstruction.

"The inhabitants about the forts are informed that in time of war the necessity might arise for the authorities to destroy their houses, but most of them had gone to rest when the knock on their door came to tell them of their fate. I could not describe all the scenes I witnessed that night. All I remember is women in tears and children praying."

LAST DAY OF FAIR HAS GOOD PROGRAM

Crowds continued to besiege Galesville, despite the cold, this morning at the opening of the last day of the Trempealeau county fair.

La Crosse day yesterday proved a big success. Turf fans had their fill of good racing, and the balance of the huge aggregation enjoyed themselves with the numerous other up-to-date attractions. Following is the race card for today:

8:30 pace and 2:25 trot—Jadski, Steadman, Winona; Porter's Prince Albert, Toraason, Blair; Cecile Bond, Catura, Hamline; Dexter D., Brown, Durand; MacD., McDonald, St. Paul; A Comet, Griffin, Viola; Leonard Bell, Borsheim, Blair.

Free for all trot and pace—Dick S., Steadman, Winona; Albert S., Lynch, Neillsville; Bill Bailey, Rochester; Queen Comona, Hineman, Rochester; Billy Linke, Richardson, Rochester; Prince of Arlington, Credmore, Rochester.

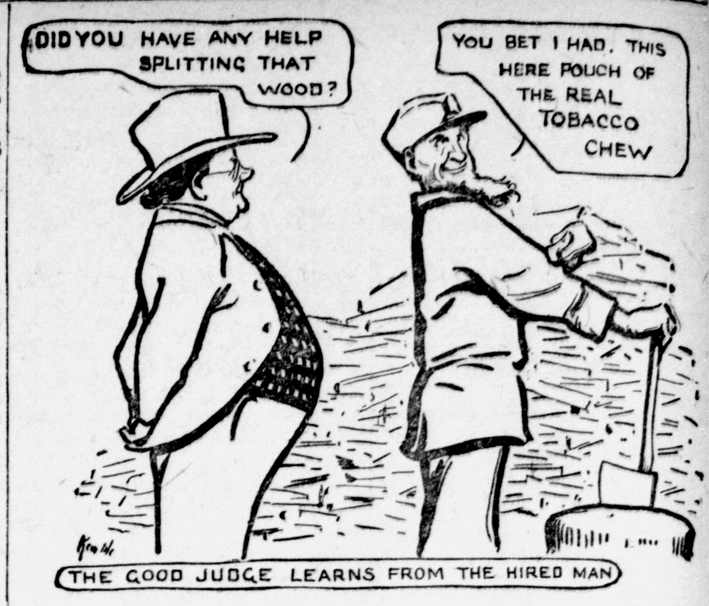
GERMAN WARSHIPS MEET RUSSIANS IN GULF OF FINLAND

LONDON, Aug. 27.—News agency dispatches from Stockholm say that German and Russian warships are reported to have clashed in the Baltic near the Gulf of Finland. The official bureau has no confirmation of the report.

Another report received here from Vienna says that the Austrians have executed a counter attack on the Russians and have defeated them in Austrian Poland after a battle that lasted seven hours. This also has no confirmation here.

A summer man's devotion is not half so often an indication of his desire to make love to a girl as of his desire to see if he can.



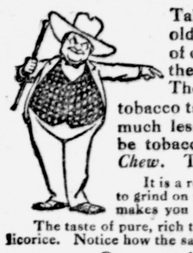
ALL around you men are talking about "Right-Cut."

You yourself are probably telling your friends it's the Real Tobacco Chew.

No "Right-Cut" user wants to see his friends go without it.

Made of pure, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

You get all the good of the rich, sappy tobacco.



Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

UNCLE SAM'S DUTY TO WARN FIGHTERS

Must Appeal to All Warring Nations to Observe the Rules of War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—As the lone great world power strictly neutral in the present war, the United States today faced a peculiar situation and delicate duty as the recipient of protests from the various warring nations regarding alleged cruelties, barbarities, atrocities and violations of The Hague conventions and international law.

President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are loath to act, however, until formal protests are in such shape that a general appeal to all countries can be made. Reluctance seemingly to "take sides" by apparently chiding any particular power for alleged infractions of martial etiquette is another factor.

A joint appeal in general terms to all the warring nations will be issued by this government, it is believed.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease. Agent, Chas. A. Beyschlag Druggist, 503 Main St.

MISS M'ELDOWNEY IS MARRIED TODAY

Becomes Bride of Angus Alexander Johnson at Elaborate Wedding in West Salem

CEREMONY IN OLD HOMESTEAD

Residence of McEldowney Family Witnesses Ceremoney Conducted by Rev. S. L. McKee

Miss Gladys Belle McEldowney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McEldowney of West Salem, and Angus Alexander Johnson, son of Alexander Johnson, West Salem, were married this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, the old McEldowney homestead. The McEldowney and Johnson families are among the most prominent in the county.

The Rev. S. L. McKee, pastor of the West Salem Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 4:00 o'clock in the presence of a large number of guests, coming from other cities.

The bridal party entered the room to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, played by Miss Lelia McKee and Miss Jennie Dudley, the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The bridal procession was preceded by the two flower girls, Evelyn McEldowney and Mildred Stubbs, who were gowned in dainty white dotted mull finished around the neck with wreaths of pink rose buds, they wore sashes of blue and white and caps with sprays of rose buds. They carried fancy baskets filled with rose petals, which they scattered in front of the bridal party.

Refreshments were served in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, which stands across the lawn and is furnished ready for occupancy. Miss Olive Cook and Miss Anne Johannas served the coffee and ice cream, punch being served on the large sun parlor at the McEldowney home. Fourteen were seated at the bridal table.

Sister Maid of Honor

Miss Rachael McEldowney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elida Johnson, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Georgina Pettingill of Iron River. Lynn Gullickson was best man. Master James McEldowney, brother of the bride, was the page. He carried the ring, concealed in the heart of a rose.

The bridal gown was of rich lustrous creamy satin, made en train, draped with a handsome scarf of silk shadow lace and pearl trimming. The bride wore a long tulle veil, which was arranged in cap shape and confined with sprays of lilies of the valley. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and bride's roses. The maid of honor's gown was pink taffeta with tunic of pink printed chiffon, edged with a band of pink satin and pink rose buds and a pink girdle, the ends finished with ornaments of pearls. The bodice was of handsome Venetian lace, falling at the sides in deep points with tassels of gold and silver, with a corsage bouquet of Killarney roses. She carried a shower bouquet of the same roses.

Bridesmaids' Gowns

The two bridesmaids' gowns were of white crepe meteor with tunics of princess lace and girdles finished at the ends with ornaments in Bulgarian colors. Mrs. McEldowney wore a handsome toilet of Alice blue crepe meteor, with a drapery of Spanish lace. The gown had an edge of passementerie in oriental colors, and a panel of the same down the front, with a blue velvet girdle. Mrs. Johnson wore a blue crepe de chine, with trimming of blue and gold.

The going-away gown of the bride was a modish suit of electric blue, with a white feather.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left on a motor trip for Medford, Wis., and will be absent a couple of weeks.

In Receiving Line

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McEldowney, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Pettingill, Iron River, grandparents of the bride. During the afternoon the West Salem Military band played a number of inspiring selections. Three hundred invitations were sent out.

Among the gests invited from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pettingill, Mr. and Mrs. Claud K. Pettingill, Mr. and Mrs. James Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. William Torrance, Mrs. Elizabeth McKown Mr. and Mrs. Lee Asplin, Mrs. Jessie Leissring and Miss Ruth Leissring, Mrs. Aurilia Viets, of La Crosse; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Viets of Wichita, Kas.; Mrs. Charles Pettijohn, of Farmington, Ill.; Miss Adel Le Tourney of Neenah, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pettingill and Miss Georgina Pettingill, Mr. and Mrs. George Pettingill of Iron River; Miss Zula Elson, Louis Merlo, Harold Nealy of Wichita; Miss Mary Brown of Madison; Miss Josephine Bass of Neilsville, Wis.; Miss Anne Neitzel of Watertown; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson, Grand Forks, N. D.; Mrs. Leland, Kenyon, Minn.; Mrs. Maud Wakefield and Miss Josephine Webber of Rochester, Minn. From Bangor were Messrs. and Mesdames Will Preston, Gessler, Adolf Toepel, Oscar Hussa, Emil Hussa, Otto Hussa, F. A. Harrison, Jess Roberts, Lee Gilfillan and Miss Frances Chase.

TO THE LADIES

I take this means of letting you know that I have such an excellent remedy for the goitre or big neck. It don't color the skin, is easily applied, and cures that unpleasant and unsightly enlargement to your greatest satisfaction.

By the Court,
JOHN BRINDLEY, County Judge.
Dated this 5th day of Aug. 1914.

SETTING TORPEDOES ON TRACK.

On the sea as well as on land dynamite reigns supreme. Mines have been laid in the waters and several steamers have already been sunk by coming in contact with these engines of destruction. The Germans are past masters in the art of mining strategical positions. This picture shows German cappers setting torpedoes on the tracks of the enemy's railway. There is not a track, a bridge, a tunnel or a mountain pass that has not been heavily mined and can be blown up at a second's notice.

LABOR INDORSES MORRIS TICKET

Laudatory Commendation of Lieut. Governor's Principles Part of Labor Day Journal

Organized labor officially indorses Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris for the nomination for United States senator in its special Labor Day edition which appeared today.

Editorially, in bold face type, prominently displayed, The Journal says:

"FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

"In the contest for the nomination for United States senator, labor's choice should be Thomas Morris of La Crosse. For years a toiler himself, he devoted himself to the study of law during spare moments in the lulls of his trade and in the evenings. For years, and until its dissolution he was an active member of the first great labor organization in America, the Knights of Labor. For many years he bore the distinction of being the only practicing lawyer enrolled in its ranks. Mr. Morris' law firm at La Crosse has always been the legal advisor of the Trades and Labor Council, and of the various local unions composing it. For them Mr. Morris carried to a successful conclusion the famous street car strike of 1909, the coopers' strike of 1911. In numerous other ways he has assisted labor unions to secure their demands in controversies with employers. Every labor union in La Crosse knows that Tom Morris is a friend of the cause. Like the great leader, Senator La Follette, Mr. Morris in his six years in the state senate voted and assisted in the passage of all—not merely a few—of the measures demanded by labor. His record as state senator and as lieutenant governor is consistently and aggressively for labor. If nominated and elected, the cause of labor will have no more loyal or staunch or effective spokesman in the halls of congress than Thomas Morris."

Andrew H. Dahl of Westby is endorsed for governor.

Henry Johnson, candidate for state treasurer, John S. Donald for secretary of state and Walter C. Owen for attorney general are all favored. Their opponents on the republican ballot are associated with Philipp and are tarred from the same barrel.

DREDGER COMING TO REMOVE BARS

Sand bars above La Crosse which have been a menace to navigation, will be removed next week.

The Mississippi river channel in the vicinity of La Crosse is in no immediate danger of deteriorating from a lack of government work on wing dams according to Captain W. A. Thompson, assistant government engineer, here today.

Reports circulated by rivermen and others that the river channel would be covered with sand in case another government appropriation was not made in the near future is not true.

"Should no appropriation be made within several months," said Captain Thompson, "the present work would not be wasted and the river little harmed."

Dredge boats from the upper Mississippi will probably arrive in La Crosse Monday.

PASTORS DISCUSS MISSIONS TODAY

Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, pastor of the First Methodist church, Rev. J. E. Watson of the West Avenue Methodist church, and Rev. M. E. Frazer, pastor of the Caledonia Street Methodist church, are attending the conference of the Home Missionary committee of the Western Wisconsin churches, at Richland Center, today.

Fifteen pastors from the western part of Wisconsin are in attendance. Discussions of the affairs of churches receiving help from the home missionary fund is the chief business of the meeting.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all who assisted us during our late bereavement in the death of our father and grandfather, Moses H. Van Camp. Special thanks to Rev. Billings, Relief Corps, Wilson-Colwell post, G. A. R., singers and all who sent the beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scoville and Daughters.

WAR ODDITIES

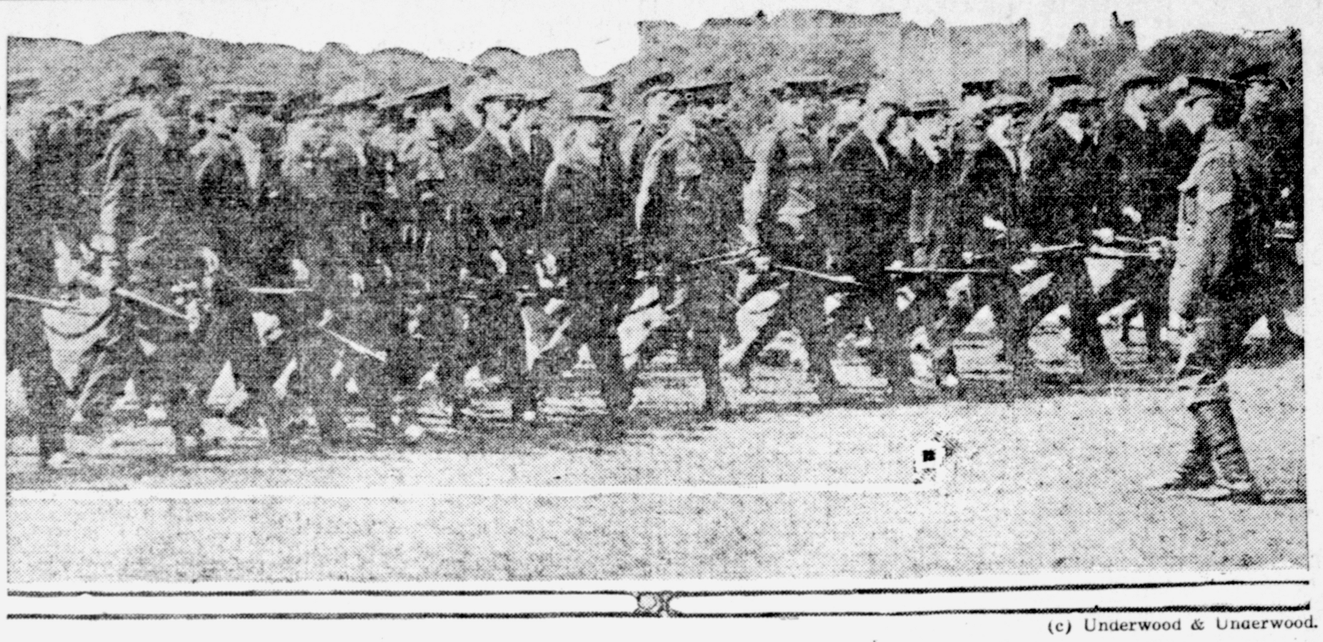
LONDON.—A London paper published a request from a "Lonely Tommy" for the address of some one with whom he might correspondent while at the front. The next day the paper received 552 letters from would-be correspondents, the list including clergymen, old ladies and young girls. One was selected and the address forwarded to "Lonely Tommy."

LONDON.—The Countess of Egmont has lost her German man waiter at Exmouth. He was arrested and taken to Exeter barracks.

LONDON.—In the British museum reading room the greatest present demand is for books on the Napoleonic wars.

PARIS—Seeing his arm lying on the ground, a wounded colonial trooper brought from the front, said he picked it up and ran several yards before falling unconscious. The trooper said he felt no pain when his arm was shot off, and did not know anything had happened until he saw the arm on the ground. He said he did not want to leave it "as meat for the Prussian dogs."

ENGLISH RECRUITS WHO HAVE ANSWERED THEIR COUNTRY'S CALL ARE BEING HURRIEDLY LICKED INTO SHAPE IN HYDE PARK, LONDON



(c) Underwood & Underwood.

This picture was made a few days ago in London and shows English recruits in Hyde Park being hurriedly licked into shape for the war. Note that the men are in citizen's clothing, some of them wearing straw hats. England will send many recruits into the war as her standing army is comparatively small.

"Whys" of European War Moves Explained By Military Expert

(By J. W. T. Mason.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—11 a. m.—The invading forces along the French border seem to have gained no important advantage since the allies changed their strategy from the offensive to the defensive. Both sides are concealing all information, which normally means conditions are drawn and indecisive.

The withholding of casualty lists is part of the strategy of war, to conceal the numerical strength of the forces engaged. If wounded and killed were known it would be possible to make an approximate estimate of the enemy's number at any given area of a 200 mile battlefield, by use of averages.

The probability is that the allies are largely outnumbered by the Austro-German forces opposing them. The total field strength of the French and Belgians added to the British expeditionary force aggregates probably 1,055,000. Austria and Germany together have a field strength of about 1,155,000. German strategy called for a very small assignment of its field army to the eastern frontier, when the war broke out, leaving the principal defense there to the reservists.

Austria's eastern frontier, with the Carpathian mountains, forms a better natural defense than the Prussian plains. There is even less military objection, therefore, to Austria throwing her principal strength at first against France than in the case of Germany. Strategic unity between the two empires also dictated this course.

On such an assumption, two hundred thousand men of Austria, and Germany's field forces, may be the total along the eastern frontiers, distributed, of course, among a greater number of reservists. This would give the kaiser 1,350,000 men for his march to Paris, against 1,050,000 of the allies. This superiority is about thirty per cent. Its sudden manifestation to the French general staff would explain many things now in the dark, such as the rout of the French forces in Lorraine, the hasty withdrawal from Alsace, the retirement in Belgium, and the sudden temperamental change from extreme optimism to references about "the fate of France" in the French official reports.

The Russian advance is moving more slowly as it approaches the Vistula river. Soldau still is mentioned as the westernmost limit of the Slav front. The official Russian reports mention the front as extending from Soldau to Ortelsburgh, about thirty-five miles.

This would suggest that instead of moving in a straight western line, the Russians are swinging to the northwest toward the Prussian garrison stronghold at Allenstein, twenty miles away. Its capture by the Russians would be the first important victory of the war for them.

The district about Allenstein is difficult for military maneuvers because of innumerable small ravines and soft ground, unless the Russians have in their possession Ortelsburgh and Rotfiels, the only two railway appoaches from the east.

ENGLISH BOY SCOUTS ACTIVE ASSISTANTS OF MILITARY GUARD

LONDON, Aug. 27.—In response to the call of Chief Scout General Sir R. Baden-Powell, more than 100,000 Boy Scouts are now performing semi-military service throughout England and thousands are volunteering daily. Their duties include the guarding and patrolling of bridges, culverts, telegraph and telephone acts; acting as guides; serving as signallers; carrying dispatches; collecting information as to supplies; picking up and forwarding dispatches dropped by air crafts; assisting coast guards as sea scouts and distributing notices to inhabitants.

"Boys of Britain! Don't go about waving flags and shouting because there is war; any ass can do that. And don't stay idle doing nothing—that is almost worse. Come and do something for your country. She needs your help.

"The Boy Scouts are now in force in all parts of the kingdom. Come and join the nearest troop in your own district, and do duty like a man."

KITCHENER IDOL OF ENGLISH PEOPLE

LONDON, Aug. 27.—While an ominous silence prevailed as to actual developments in the theater of war and the gravest apprehension was felt for the British troops in Belgium, England today still pinned her faith on Kitchener of Khartoum.

Cold and severe, Lord Kitchener's personality is not one that brings popularity in times of peace. As war minister, however, in the present crisis he is looked upon as the one man in the entire empire who may direct the fortunes of England to a successful conclusion. The newspapers now refer to the silent war minister of "K.of K." His every appearance is greeted with cheers and he stands as the idol of London.

MANN ACT RULING MAY HURT SALOONS

Future granting of retail liquor licenses in La Crosse may be seriously affected by a ruling by Attorney General Owen to T. B. Abel of Sparta today.

This ruling provides that under the recently passed Mann act, no licenses for saloon occupancy may be issued to buildings formerly used for saloon purposes, which have not been occupied since July 1, 1914. The village is entitled to five licenses, application for the fifth being denied under the above ruling.

War Bulletins

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A news agency dispatch from Cettinjie says an Austrian squadron of four cruisers and eight torpedo boats attempted the bombardment of Badua, Dalmatia, recently occupied by the Montenegrins. Before they could do any damage a French-British squadron approached and the Austrians fled through the Adriatic in the direction of Pola.

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—The government today again reiterated that its participation in the European war will be confined to the far east. Reports that Japanese warships are to be sent to the Mediterranean to aid the British and French against the Austrians were declared incorrect.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—In the house of commons this afternoon, First Lord of the Admirality Churchill announced that the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse has been sunk off the west African coast by the British cruiser Highflyer.

INDICT BANKERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The federal grand jury late this afternoon returned indictments against Charles E. Munday, vice president of the defunct LaSalle Street Trust & Savings bank of which William Lorimer was te head; Charles G. Fox, cashier, and Thomas F. McDonald, assistant cashier. The indictments charge misapplication of funds and the making of false entries.

BEGIN LAST MASSES FOR LATE POPE

Cardinals to Celebrate the Three Final Funeral Services for Pius X

ROME, Aug. 27.—Beginning tomorrow the three final funeral masses for his holiness Pope Pius X will be celebrated in the Sistine chapel. The last mass was celebrated in St. Peter's today.

During the final three days the solemn masses will be celebrated by a cardinal with four other cardinals assisting and all other members of the sacred college in Rome participating. Other prelates will be grouped about in the order of precedence in which they come in the Catholic hierarchy.

With a majority of the cardinals who will participate in the conclave now in Rome, it was evident today that Cardinals Gaspari and Ferrarata are rapidly becoming the most likely candidates to succeed the late Pope Pius.

KRIEBEL COMING HOME TOMORROW FROM OLD COUNTRY

Emil Kriebel, 1533 Mississippi street, will be home from Europe tomorrow morning. A message was received by his daughter, Mrs. Otto Bye from Mr. Kriebel at Washington, D. C., saying he had been delayed.

He was expected to arrive here today. Mr. Kriebel spent the greater part of the summer in Trondhjem, Norway, with an aged mother. He found no difficulty in obtaining passage from Norway on a steamer bound for the United States.

GERMAN CRUISER DESTROYED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Encountering a "superior force," the small German cruiser Magdeburg was blown up in the Bay of Finland, a wireless message from Berlin informed the German embassy here this afternoon. The dispatch said the cruiser was just entering the bay when a fleet of foreign ships attacked her, ran her aground and then destroyed her. Most of the crew were saved.

BALLOTS ARE DISTRIBUTED.

County Clerk Bert A. Joiivette and Sheriff John Weber left early this morning in automobiles loaded down with ballots for the primary election of next Tuesday. Two days will be consumed in distributing ballots to all the voting places in La Crosse county.

ARISTOCRATIC VAG GETS 30 DAY JOB

Because he had aristocratic tendencies and would not accept less than 25 cents from a man on La Crosse streets, whom he begged for money, John Maloney, beggar, landed in county jail for thirty days. Maloney asked a man for a quarter. The man went down in his jeans and produced a ten cent piece from a large supply of coins. This did not satisfy the tramp and he argued for more. A patrolman happened by.

FORTIFICATIONS FOR LA CROSSE HARBOR NOW UP

La Crosse may fortify its riverbank with one real cannon.

Plans are now on foot in the city hall by the park commissioners, policemen and others to ask the city council to properly mount the big Spanish cannon, which is LaCrosse's trophy of the war with Spain to Levee park. It is said to be poorly mounted now and is regarded by officials as an eyesore.

TURKEY MAY JOIN DUAL ALLIANCE

Appointment of German as Chief of Army Is Regarded as Significant

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—What is believed to be a significant dispatch indicating Turkey's attitude in the European war was received at the German embassy here today. A wireless message from Berlin said it was officially reported from Vienna that a former German army officer, General Liman, has been appointed commander in chief of the Turkish European troops.

At the Turkish embassy here it was strongly intimated that if Turkey is drawn into the war, her interests will be merged with Germany and Austria. A high official said, however, that it will not be so much German sympathy as animosity against England for seizing two Turkish battleships almost completed by British firms.

BELGIANS STRIKE AT COMMUNICATION

Work Out of Antwerp Destroying Railways and Cutting Wires

ANTWERP, Aug. 27.—The Belgian army is striking at the German lines of communication, which are loosely held. A large proportion of the Belgian forces which took refuge in Antwerp when Brussels was evacuated is now in the field operating between Malines and Brussels. The Belgians are heavily supported with artillery and already it is believed they have succeded in drawing some of the weight off the attack of the French frontier.

But the field forces are destroying the railroads and cutting communications. Up to the present time the Germans are reported as not depending on their railroad transportation. They have an enormous number of automobiles in regular supply trains.

R. J. COLLIER ILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Robert J. Collier, publisher of Collier's weekly is seriously ill here today of urremic poisoning. He was hurried from his summer home at Racquette Lake, in the Adirondacks, by special train in a race to save his life. Collier has been ill since Sunday.

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Generally fair and slightly warmer tonight and Friday.

For Wisconsin: Generally fair tonight and Friday. Warmer Friday and northwest portion Friday.

For Minnesota: Generally fair tonight and Friday; warmer tonight and east portion Friday.

For Iowa: Unsettled weather tonight and Friday; possibly local showers tonight. Warmer Friday and northwest portion tonight.

Weather Conditions

The high pressure area is drifting slowly eastward and the temperature continues moderately low in the northern states but has moderated somewhat in the Plains states.

The weather is generaly cloudy except in the Gulf states and rain is falling this morning in the Lake Superior district, Nebraska, Iowa and at a few southern stations. The rainfall has been moderately heavy in western Nebraska and Tennessee. An area of low pressure is developing in the northwest.

Generally fair and somewhat warmer weather is indicated for this section for tonight and Friday.

DRUGS HARD HIT BY WARS' PRICES SAYS T.H.SPENCE

Foreign Made Medicines to Be Manufactured Here, Where Formerly Jobbed

MANY DRUGS ARE UNOBTAINABLE

From 100 to 500 Per Cent Increases Found in Formerly Common Remedies

Suicidical maniacs will have to seek other means than the carbolic acid route, home remedies will take the place of peroxide, glycerineless toothpaste will become popular, and headache sufferers will be forced to other means of cure than asperine. La Crosse drug users will be hard hit.

Prices in drugs used in La Crosse have taken a rise of from one to five hundred per cent during the opening of the European war, according to Thomas H. Spence, La Crosse druggist.

To Manufacture Here

Mr. Spence of the Spence-McCord Drug company is of the opinion that many foreign made drugs may be manufactured in the United States, and it is the belief of many drug men of this country that many drugs will then be manufactured altogether at home.

Permangenate of potash has increased 500 per cent, carbolic acid has gone up 300 per cent. oxalic acid has jumped to four times its former price, and peroxide of hydrogen is expected to soon be worth its weight in gold.

Glycerine has taken a flight of 100 per cent, menthol, made in Japan, is soaring and salvarsan and neosalvarsan have been taken off the American market and only sold to physicians.

Asperin has jumped 100 per cent in price, and likewise many other drugs obtained from European countries.

CENSORSHIP STRICT ON ORIENTAL WAR

No Word Gets Past Tokio of Moves on Germans at Kiao Chau

PEKIN, Aug. 27.—The government professes to be without information concerning the Japanese-British operations against the German concessions on the Shantung peninsula. The censorship at Tokio is absolute. Word direct from Kiao Chau is subject to enormous delay.

Practically all of the noncombatants left Kiao Chau before war was declared. A number of nurses remained behind to care for the wounded.

The German ambassador will sail for the United States on August 29, on the steamer Minnesota.

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—It was officially announced today that the second squadron of the Japanese fleet blockaded Kiao Chau on Wednesday. No report of fighting has yet been received.

FEW FAIL TO SEE U. S. SOLDIERS EAT

La Crosse people did not miss opportunity to visit the camp of Battery D, Fifth regiment, U. S. field artillery, at the fair grounds last night. They watched the men eat.

The Mississippi wagon bridge, the bane of the board of public works and Captain W. A. Thompson, could not be trusted to support three heavy guns which the soldiers had in their equipment.

They were hoisted to flat cars of the Milwaukee railway last night and taken to La Crescent by rail. One hundred mounted soldiers and the sixty gunners rode across the wagon bridge this morning. The soldiers are on their way from Camp Robinson to Fort Snelling.

TO FRONT AT ONCE

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Former war minister Messimy departed for the front immediately on turning his port folio over to his successor.

FREDERICK PALMER WILL REPRESENT AMERICAN PRESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Frederick Palmer, world famous war correspondent, will represent the United Press and all other American press associations at the front with the British army. When the British war office announced that only one American newspaperman would be permitted with the army, the American press associations agreed that Palmer was best fitted for the position.

Frederick Palmer has been a war correspondent in all conflicts since the Greek war of 1897. He was in Klondike with the gold rush; happened to be in the Philippines in 1898; returned with Dewey in 1899, and in 1900 was with the allied army that marched to Peking. During the Russo-Japanese war he was attached as correspondent to the first Japanese army. He "covered" the Balkan war.

Champions of Hood Street Grounds Defeat Champs of North Side in Second Game

In the Midget League race for the city championship, the Eagles of Hood street cinched matters by administrating a severe drubbing to the Champs of the north side to the tune of 21 to 4. The game was put on ice for the Eagles in the fourth when they piled up 11 runs, and they scored every inning after that.

The Eagles have an exceptional record of only one game lost this season. The fine showing may be attributed largely to the battery composed of F. Hefti and P. Rippe. The team has played consistent ball throughout the season, having played four games of errorless ball.

Score by innings.

COUNTY GODFATHER CARES FOR WAIFS

Had it not been for Assistant Superintendent Jack Brogan of the La Crosse Rescue Mission and Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick, Gladys and George McCormick, children of tender ages would probably be homeless in La Crosse today.

Arriving here last night from Rochester, Minn., the children looked for their mother. She wrote them she lived in La Crosse. They couldn't find her and had no money or friends. Their father, separated from their mother, is in Rochester.

Applying to the mission Mr. Brogan took the children to Burdick. They will be sent to their father, although they are in the legal custody of the mother.

HULL DAY AT GALE HE IS CONFIDENT

Yesterday was "Hull day" at the Galesville fair.

Merlin Hull, progressive republican candidate for governor, was the speaker of the day.

Emanuel Philipp, stalwart candidate for the same office, visited the fair yesterday.

Mr. Hull is today making a tour of La Crosse county and vicinity. He feels confident that he will carry these counties' votes at the primaries Tuesday.

CLAIM DEFEAT OF RUSSIAN ADVANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A dispatch from Berlin to the German embassy this afternoon said that the Russian defeat at Krasnik was "caused by attack of the irresistible Austrian infantry."

"The defeat of the Russian main force in Russian Poland is expected to cause a swift Austrian advance northward," it was stated.

Another dispatch to the embassy stated:

"A big transport of prisoners, chiefly Turkos (French Algerians) and British soldiers passed Aix la Chappelle today."

Blasing-Backman

Miss Eva Backman became the bride of Mr. Charles Blasing, last Tuesday morning. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Backman, of this city. Rev. Saevig was the officiating clergyman. Miss Hattie Backman acted as bridesmaid and Axel Knudson, cousin of the bride was best man. The bride is a talented young lady, who is a graduate of the city high school and also of the Valley City, N. D. State Normal. She has taught several terms in North Dakota. The groom is cashier of the State Bank of Berwick, N. D. The newlyweds set out on a short auto trip, after which they will settle down to housekeeping at Berwick, N. D.

Mrs. Cornelia Janet Gibson, whose death occurred at Decorah, Iowa, on Friday, Aug. 14th, 1914, was born near Winwood, Wayne county, Pennsylvania, on June 6th, 1829, her maiden name being Cornelia Janet Moore. She was educated in the schools of Wayne county, and later taught school there. On Sept. 15th, 1850 she was united in marriage to James W. Gibson, also of Winwood and to them were born eight children, four of whom are dead. Mr. Gibson died in 1896. Mrs. Gibson's home after leaving Pennsylvania, was for some years in Illinois, then in Wisconsin and afterwards in Minnesota. During har last years, she made her home between her two daughters, Mrs. L. A. Gullickson, of Rushford, Minn., and Mrs. B. Harmon of Decorah, Iowa. She is survived by four children, five grandchildren and one great shild. Those of her children living are Myron B. Gibson, of Santa Rosa, California; Mrs. May E. Wilson, of Omaha, Nebraska; Mrs. Ida Harmon, of Decorah, Iowa, and Mrs. L. A. Gullickson of Rushford, Minn. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, August 17, from the Decorah Methodist church, of which she was a member, Rev. G. A. Lackland conducting the services. Interment was made in Phelp's cemetery, near Decorah. Mrs. Gibson, having been a resident fo Rushford for about eighteen years, had many friends here.

W. C. T. U. Elects

At the annual business meeting of the Rushfor W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Akre, recently, a large number were present. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. L. J. Pederson and Mrs. A. Wright. The following officers were elected to serve the coming year: Pres., Mrs. A. Wright; Vice Pres., Mrs. L. J. Pederson; Treasurer, Mrs. L. Tagland; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Clara Reihus; Asst Cor. Secretary, Mrs. T. Sundby; Secretary, Miss Martha Gjernes. POULTRY MEET AT ARMORY.

The Western Wisconsin Poultry association will show this year at company B Armory hall. So as not to conflict with the dates of the county fair, the show will be held September 14. This was decided upon at a meeting of the association held Monday night.

A fool can't tell anything about the facility with which a girl can be kissed—and a gentleman wont.

An Honest Answer

Standing by the entrance of a large estate in the suburbs of Dublin are two huge dogs carved out of granite.

An Englishman going by in a motor thought he would have some fun with the Irish driver.

"How often, Jack, do they feed those two dogs?"

"Whenever they bark, sir," was the straightforward reply.—Tit-Bits.

RESINOL MAKES ECZEMA VANISH

Stops Itching and Burning Instantly.

There is immediate relief for skins itching, burning and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or other tormenting skin trouble, in a warm bath with Resinol Soap and a simple application of Resinol Ointment. The soothing, healing Resinol balsams sink right into the skin, stop itching instantly, and soon clear away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases where other treatments have had no effect. After that, the regular use of Resinol Soap is usually enough to keep the skin clear and healthy.

Resinol Ointment (50c and $1.00) and Resinol Soap (25c.), are also speedily effective for pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores and many forms of piles. Prescribed by doctors for the past nineteen years, and sold by all druggists. For trial free, write to Dept. KK, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Buy in the original blue package and avoid the inferior substitutes which a few unscrupulous dealers try to sell to make a few cents more profit at your expense.

Only Sure Corn Cure Ever Known

"Gets-It" the New Way, 2 Drops Do It

To endure the pains and tortures caused by a little thing like a corn is ridiculous, simply because it is unnecessary. The new-plan corn cure "GETS-IT," is the first one ever known to remove corns without fail, without pain and without trouble. This is why it is the biggest selling corn cure in existence today. It is now used by millions, because it does away with sticky tape, with plasters and cotton rings that shift their position and press down onto the corn, with salves that "raw up" the toe, with "harnesses" that cause pressure and pain, with knives, razors and files, clawing and pulling at a corn.

"GETS-IT" is applied in two seconds. Two drops applied with the glass rod do the work. Pain goes the corn shrivels, vanishes. Accept no substitue. Try it on any corn, wart, callus or bunion tonight.

"GETS-IT" is sold in La Crosse, by everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

"GES-IT" is sold in La Crosse, by Columbian Pharmacy, City Book and Drug Store.

A genuine 10c worth is your mild friend, Tom Moore.

Compact in build. A silky Sumatra wrapper, snugly fitted and free from the slightest defects.

Full of a mild, mellow bouquet. Draws freely and burns evenly to a firm, snowy ash.

Most of his friends would call that a pretty modest description.

ANOTHER NAPOLEON WILL BREAK INTO BALL HISTORY

Great Second Sacker of the Cleveland Americans Is Slowing Up Now

WAGNER IS NOW SHINING LIGHT

Peerless Shortstop of the Pirates a Star After Eighteen Years in Baseball

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 27.—Ballplayers will come and go—thousands of them—and the world will forget most of them as quickly as their names cease to appear in the box scores, but the names of two players who are about to pass out of the sport as active participants will live as long as the National pastime itself.

The names of Napoleon Lajoie, famous Cleveland second baseman, and Hans Wagner, equally famous Pittsburgh shortstop, have been written in letters of fire on the walls of baseball's hall of fame. After nearly twenty years these Lancelots of the diamond are slowing up and soon must give way to younger ones.

Napoleon Lajoie first gained fame on the lots of Woonsocket, R. I. His fielding and hitting ability excited the admiration of a scout of the Fall River, Mass., team who happened along one day. Lajoie signed a Fall River contract and preceeded immediately to make good. Billy Nash, Philadelphia National League manager saw the young Frenchman perform one August day and purchased his release. He was assigned to first base and played the position amazingly well. His batting for the first year in fast company was .328.

Previously Lajoie had been a hack driver. In one year the Rhode Island hack driver rose from obscurity to fame. Lajoie was shifted from first base to second, where his fielding was so spectacular that he soon became known as the Kink of second basemen. His graceful and apparently careless manner of fielding the ball, caused him to be acknowledged the most finished fielder the game had ever known.

In 1901 Lajoie jumped from the Philadelphia Nationals to the Athletics and was transferred to Cleveland in 1902. He led the National League in batting in his last year with that organization with a mark of .422. He led the American League in his first year with .376. In 1904 he led the American League with .391 and the following year with .329.

Hans Wagner of the Pirate, has not slumped as badly in his hitting this year as Lajoie, but he has slowed up noticeably in all departments of the game.

This is Wagner's eighteenth year as a major league player. He made his debut with the Louisville club of the old National League a year after Lajoie joined the Phillies.

Wagner led the National League eight seasons. He averaged .340 including this season. Lajoie has averaged about .343 in his nineteen years of major league playing.

Both Pittsburgh and Cleveland are greatly affected by the slumps of these star players. It is significant that the Pirates and Naps both dropped to last place the first year that great stars showed signs of fading.

Punch this pipe and cigarette news under your hood!

Here's case-cards with the full deck right on the mahogany:

The reason why men smoke Prince Albert in their jimmy pipes or rolled into joy makin's cigarettes is simply because Prince Albert can't bite tongues, can't parch throats; it is always delightful in flavor and fragrance; it is made by a wonderful patented process that puts it into a class by itself! And P. A. is exactly as good as THAT listens!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

Smoke P. A. if you want to get first-hand news about what's good for your smokappetite! Why, there never was, and there can't be today, any pipe or cigarette tobacco in the same class with P. A.

Take a tip: You just go to P. A. like little peaches grow on trees, natural-like, and get some cheer-up spirit in your system right early these mornings!

Prince Albert is sold everywhere. Tidy red tins 10c; toppy red bags 5c (handy for cigarette smokers); also, handsome pound and half-pound humidors.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

BY HAL SHERIDAN

Mighty Matty came into his own for fair when he blanked the St. Louis Cardinals after the Giants had dropped the first game of a twin bill. Huggins' crew have always heretofore been Big Six' jinz.

Saier and Larry Cheney downed the Braves—the first baseman's homer being the only run of the game while Cheney was invincible.

The Athletics demonstrated that their whitewash supply still holds out by daubing the White Sox with another coat—the third they have handed out in two days.

Tris Speaker's mighty bat beat the Tigers—the Red Sox outfielder crackout a triple with the sacks loaded.

Every member of the Indianapolis Feds, except Kauff—who leads the league in hitting—got one or more hits and consequently Kansas City lost to the league leaders.

Chance's Yankees triumphed over the Browns in the twelfth when Catcher Sam Agnew dropped a thrown at the plate.

M'LOUGHLIN BEATS WRIGHT

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 27.—McLoughlin outclassed Wright to such an extent that the Bostonian won only three games of the lawn tennis match, which occupied thirty-three minutes playing itme yesterday. The champion handled Wright's cop strokes as if they were the simplest of tennis problems, while many of his own returns were unplayable from the other side of the net. The score were 6-0, 6-2, 6-1. So fast was the play up to noon that ten matches in the fourth round were decided in straight sets. All the favorites came through in these matches and as a rule were not pushed at any time.

MANY OFFICERS IN GERMAN CASUALTIES

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 27.—Additional lists of the German wounded are being published in Berlin, according to the reports received via the wireless. They continue to emphasize the mortality among the officers, which is very great.

In describing the reduction of the Namur forts the Tageblatt says that thirty one-centimetre mortars and forty two-centimetre howitzers were used with telling effect.

Discussing the success of the Germans in Belgium the Tageblatt says the Germans prevented the French reaching Namur at all.

It is difficult to say which annoys a girl most, the man who kisses her with his hat on, or the man who kisses her at the first opportunity, or the man who doesn't try to kiss her at all.

It's a poor sort of a wife who isn't generous enough to go away every summer and give her husband a few weeks' vacation—but alas, there are so few husbands that seem to know when the summer vacation is over and the recess bell has rung.

Chicago Grain Review.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Wheat had another excited flurry that carried prices up in startling fashion shortly after the opening today, December jumping to $1.17 and May to $1.25. This was followed by a slump and then a slight advance that brought prices at noon about a cent over the opening figures.

Pit traders expressed the belief the prices may go down with a crash if the feeling expressed today is found to be correct. It was reported that what was supposed to be a heavy export demand from European governments is only an inquiry by foreign speculators who are trying to learn at what figures they can buy wheat in America to sell to their respective governments.

Corn was easier at the start, under a moderate selling movement, but the early offerings were quickly absorbed and prices had a rebound of 3-8 to 3-4c over the opening.

Oats started firm and 1-4c higher. September lost the advance but the other months remained firm.

Provisions were lower, pork losing $1 on account of lower hog prices at the stock yards.

SERVIANS CLAIM AUSTRIAN ROUT

Say Dual Monarchy's Army Lost Along Drina River and Is Retreating

NISH, Servia, Aug. 27.—Official announcement was made today that following a battle along the fifty-mile front of the Drina, in which the Austrian army of invasion was defeated by the Servians, the victorious Servians are now driving the enemy toward Loznitza. Every effort is being made by the Servian commander to annihilate the invaders.

Since last reports 2,000 additional prisoners have been taken. In addition the Servians have taken fifty cannons and large quantities of stores. It is admitted that the Servian losses have been enormous.

NOW CHEER UP WARM WEATHER IS COMING SOON

The advance agent of winter reached La Crosse last night with a temperature of 51 degrees above the point where ice has to be chopped with a hatchet. A temperature of 61 was the warmest reached in LaCrosse yesterday, and although warmer weather is promised within twenty-four hours, the government bureau here cannot promise better than 65 for tonight. Clear skies for today and tonight are the prediction, and this at least cheers the frozen heart.

Truth.
We are born to inquire after truth—it requires a greater power to possess it.—Montaigne.

You Up That Builds The Beer

700 AMERICANS SAFE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 27.—Headed by Captain W. Harry Brown, multi?-millionaire coal operator of this city, 700 Americans who were in Lucerene, Switzerland, have arrived safely in London after an exciting trip through France, Belgium and Holland, according to cables here.

All this talk about the "superwoman" seems rather superfluous, considering that the comedy of matrimony woman has always been nothing but a "super."

NO MORE ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER!

"I want every asthma sufferer in La Crosse to try my treatment entirely at my risk," Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. "Go to Geo. E. Mariner, 425 Main street and get a 50-cent package of my Asthamador and should it fail to give instant relief, this druggist will cheerfully refund your money without any question whatever." The Doctor says further, "No matter how violent the attack, how obstinate the case or what else has failed my Asthmador or Asthamador Cigarettes will give instant relief, usually in 10 seconds but always within 15 minutes. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials abundantly prove what my remedy has done, but I know it will do the same for others. I am positively certain that it will produce instant relief and will be found the best remedy ever used that I have no fears of authorizing this druggist to give this guarantee or of his being called upon for refunding of money." No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy under this positive guarantee.

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under this same guarantee by their loca druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

FORTY-ACRE CORRAL FOR ALLEGED SPIES

ALDERSHOT, England, Aug. 27.—(By Mail to New York)—A forty-acre concentration camp for the thousands of German suspects who have been rounded up in all parts of England is being constructed at Blackdown, near here. The corral is fenced by barb wire on ten foot posts. Outside is another circle of barb wire entangled, and between the two fences sentries will pass with loaded rifles. The prisoners will be housed in quarters built of galvanized iron, and will be fed on ordinary army rations.

"The Water of Eternal Youth"

The beauties of the Austrian court used a lotion which was so effectual in keeping the face smooth and free from wrinkles, even in the aged, they named it the "water of eternal youth."

Some one recently has divulged the secret of this wonderful, though exceedingly simple, wrinkle lotion, which in her gratitude she has similarly dubbed a preserver of youth: One ounce pure saxolite (powdered), dissolved in a half pint witch hazel—that's all there is to it. Any woman can get these ingredients at her drugstore, put them together, and use the solution with entire safety. To bathe the face in the same brings immediate results, even in case of the deeper wrinkles and furrows. This is also effective for hanging cheeks and double chin.

SUFFS BREAK TRUCE

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Militant suffragists today broke their self-imposed truce to their campaign for the vote. Under the leadership of "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, a big crowd of the "Furies" besieged the home office demanding to see Home Secretary McKenna. The crowd that gathered was bitterly hostile to the women, and police saved them from violence. Seventeen arrests were made.

Before marriage a man can't seem to "make talk" without making love; after marriage he can't seem to make it without making criticisms.

TRY TO ROUSE SPAIN TO WAR

MADRID, Aug. 27.—Efforts of political leaders to stir up sentiment that will force Spain to cast her lot with the allies agaist Germany are being sternly frowned on by the king. The position of the government to date is to maintain the strictest neutrality.
